

Book Club Discussion Guide

Pine Island Home by Polly Horvath, Page 1 (September 2022)

Pine Island Home

By Polly Horvath

About the author:

Polly Horvath has written many books for children and young adults. She has won numerous awards including a National Book Award, Newbery Honor, Toronto Dominion Award, International White Raven, Canadian Library Association's Young Adult Book of the Year, short-listed for Germany's most prestigious literature award, the Deutscher Jugendliteraturpreis, the Writer's Trust Vicky Metcalfe Award for her body of work, and many others.

Her books have been New York Times and Publishers Weekly bestsellers and Rosie O'Donell and Oprah picks. She is translated into over twenty-five languages and her books are taught in children's literature curricula in North America and internationally. Polly Horvath grew up in Kalamazoo, Michigan. She now lives in Metchosin, British Columbia and is both an American and a Canadian citizen. She is married and has two daughters.

Source: <https://www.pollyhorvath.com/>

About this book:

When the McCready sisters' parents are washed away in a tsunami, their Great Aunt Martha volunteers to have them live with her on her farm in British Columbia. But while they are traveling there, Martha dies unexpectedly, forcing Fiona, the eldest, to come up with a scheme to keep social services from separating the girls - a scheme that will only work if no one knows they are living on their own.

Book Club Discussion Guide

Pine Island Home by Polly Horvath, Page 2 (September 2022)

Fiona approaches their grouchy and indifferent neighbor Al and asks if he will pretend to be their live-in legal guardian should papers need to be signed or if anyone comes snooping around. He reluctantly agrees, under the condition that they bring him dinner every night. As weeks pass, Fiona takes on more and more adult responsibilities, while each of the younger girls finds their own special role in their atypical family.

But even if things seem to be falling into place, Fiona is sure it's only a matter of time before they are caught. Written in Polly Horvath's inimitable style, gentle humor and tough obstacles are woven throughout this story about the bonds of sisterhood and what makes a family.

Source: <https://www.pollyhorvath.com/>

Discussion Questions:

1. Analyze the personality traits of each of the McCready sisters. What role does each play within their family? Explain the following quote: "It was as if they all shared the parts of each other that were missing in themselves" (p. 30). Fiona and Marlin have very distinct roles in the girls' survival. Why is Natasha the one Fiona worries about the most?
2. Fiona remembers that their mother called Aunt Martha "that peculiar woman hiding in the woods." Why was Aunt Martha so willing to take the orphaned girls when other relatives refused? What do the girls learn about Aunt Martha from Al Farber and Mr. Pennypacker? Which of Aunt Martha's traits are most admirable? How might Fiona possess similar traits? Explain how these traits are necessary for survival.
3. Discuss the girls' background. Explain how being a seasoned traveler prepares one for survival. What obstacles do the girls encounter once settling in at Aunt Martha's

Book Club Discussion Guide

Pine Island Home by Polly Hovath, Page 3 (September 2022)

Pine Island home? How is Marlin doubtful that living alone will work? Discuss why Fiona really needs for Marlin to be hopeful. What are Fiona's greatest fears about living without a grown-up present? How does Fiona deal with her fears? She remembers the idioms that her mother used to get the family through various life experiences. Point out these idioms and discuss how they help Fiona in their day-to-day survival.

4. Fiona stresses to her sisters that it must remain a secret that they are living alone. What is the most difficult part of keeping their secret? How does Miss Webster uncover their secret? Why is she so willing to help them remain in Aunt Martha's house alone? Explain what Miss Webster means when she calls them "lucky, lucky girls" (p. 42). Miss Webster comes over every Sunday to see how they are doing. At which point do these visits become more than an inspection?
5. How do the girls talk Al Farber into being their guardian? Explain what he means when he says, "I don't mind the lying. I mind the nuisance factor" (p. 56). Point out the scenes that illustrate the nuisance factor. Point out the scenes that illustrate what Al means when he says, "Well, what a tangled web we weave!" (p. 81). How does the web become more tangled as the novel progresses?
6. Describe Al Farber. What was Al's relationship with Aunt Martha? How does this explain why she left him her fishing gear? Discuss why he and Mr. Pennypacker are constantly feuding. Al believes that most people do not know themselves. What does he learn about himself once the girls are a part of his life?
7. Fiona knows that Miss Webster is for emergencies and Al is for camouflage. Describe what emergencies she is referencing. Debate whether Al does a good job in his role of camouflaging. How does he let Fiona down when he doesn't drive her to the dance? Discuss what he does to try to right his wrong. Explain how an emergency at the farm is responsible for Miss Webster meeting Donald Pettinger.

Book Club Discussion Guide

Pine Island Home by Polly Hovath, Page 4 (September 2022)

8. Charlie, who has a special relationship with Al, invites him to Marlin's birthday party. What is significant about the ring he gives Marlin? Why doesn't she want it? Al returns all the money the girls have paid him to be their guardian. What is symbolic about this gesture?
9. How does social services learn about the McCready sisters? Why is the social worker satisfied with what she sees? Mr. Pennypacker reveals that Al wants to legally adopt the girls. What causes Al to make this big decision? Why does Pennypacker agree? The girls are responsible for Al giving up beer and returning to his writing. Explain what Fiona means when she says, "We're your boat" (p. 228).

Source: <https://holidayhouse.com/book/pine-island-home/>